Shipment log

A very useful feature since everybody in the company with an internet connection can log in to Unifaun Online and search for shipments. You do not have to know the carriers' shipment numbers since you use the name or customer number of the receiver, your internal reference or order number as search parameters.

This functionality is ideal for people working in the order, finance or customer services department who need to promptly get detailed information about a shipment or a parcel. By selecting a shipment number a search is performed at the carrier's side and the latest shipment status is shown.

For some carriers this is done automatically and the status displayed is always the latest.

Reports and shipment lists

In Unifaun Online it is possible to produce various reports where the information can be put together in several different ways. It is easy to make a selection of shipments based on, for example, date, service or address and then print the report. If the carrier wants unique shipment lists, such as a shipment list with PDF code, you can of course print those from Unifaun Online Control.

Data export functionality

Make a selection from your shipments and export the data to a Microsoft Excel-file or a tab-separated text file for further processing and analysis. A great alternative to the standard shipment lists.

Guest login

If you have certain information that you want to share with your clients, you can create a guest login account. Your guest can search for and see the information you have chosen to share with that specific client. Maybe you handle shipments on behalf of somebody else and want them to be able to follow up on their own shipments. You can also provide your regular receivers with a guest login and thus letting them see information about their shipments without contacting you first.

E-mail notification

Using an automatically generated e-mail you can notify a receiver about you having sent goods to them and that they have a parcel on the way. You can compose the message yourself and Unifaun Online adds the carrier and the carrier's reference number. In the e-mail the reference number appears as a clickable link that the receiver can use to find out where the shipment is for the moment.

Unifaun Track & Trace

Unifaun Track & Trace allows you to track your shipments in just the same way regardless of carrier and also gives you detailed information about the shipment. You do not have to know the carriers' shipment or parcel numbers since you use your own order number or reference as search parameters. Unifaun Track & Trace is designed to be integrated with your Business System. After a shipment is stored or printed from Unifaun Online or maybe sent directly from your Business System, Unifaun Track & Trace keeps track of the shipment from within your Business System.

Profile Management

Profile Management allows you to control information access and user rights. It will increase security and make working in Unifaun Online more effective since you can streamline each user's or group of users' way of working in Unifaun Online.
